FORMER BETHEL YOUNG MAN LOST LIFE

David Babson of Berlin Drowned at Rumford Center

The community was saddened on Monday morning to learn of the death of David Babson by drowning on Sunday evening.

The accident occurred at Rumford Center about 8:30, when the automobile in which Mr. Babson and Louis Rivard of Berlin were riding plunged into the river at the ferry. It was very foggy and the men were not familiar with the road. Both men freed themselves from the car and Rivard reached the shore, but Babson, who was an expert swimmer, went in the wrong direction. His body was recovered early Monday morning some 75 feet from the car.

Mr. Babson was born in Berlin, N. H., 32 years ago. He married Bessie Wheeler of Bethel, the daughter of Mrs. Abigail Morgan, who with their two little girls survives.

The funeral was held at their home in Berlin Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock in charge of the American Legion.

Mr. Babson lived here for several years before going to Rumford some five years ago. He was a popular young man and had many friends here.

"SEVENTH HEAVEN" ON LAKEWOOD STAGE

Famous Play to be Presented Next Week

That widely discussed and thoroughly stimulating drama, "Seventh Heaven," which ran for 700 nights at the Booth Theatre, New York, and played to capacity houses for extended engagements in other cities, will furnish The Lakewood Players with a splendid vehicle next week.

Produced by John Golden, foremost exponent of modern entertainment, "Seventh Heaven" heads the list of the most recent Broadway successes which have brought more than one million dollars to the producers.

It is a well constructed, carefully written story and is one of the most dramatic of the moment.

"Seventh Heaven" is a story of the love of a young man and woman who are separated by a social barrier. The story is told in a most dramatic and stirring manner, and it is in no sense a mere play. Its heart interest and its human interest, and its social and economic problems, provide an unusual opening for players.

It is a vigorous and exciting entertainment, well suited to the large company which The Lakewood Players will provide for its Maine presentation. Of special interest is the fact that Harry Hagan, who played Chico in the Broadway production, will be seen in his original role surrounded by a competent group of favorites.

Albert F. Smith of New York and Robert M. Brown spent the week end in Portland.

Van Den Kerckhoven

Louis A. Van Den Kerckhoven of this town and Miss Thelma Cooper of Weeks Mills were married Sunday at three o'clock at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Van Den Kerckhoven.

The groom is a graduate of Gould Academy and has a position in the Bethel National Bank.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Den Kerckhoven left for a week's trip and on their return will live in town.

OXFORD COUNTY FARM BUREAU

EXECUTIVE MEETING

Members of the Executive Committee of the Oxford County Farm Bureau met on Friday, August 31, to take up plans for their coming membership campaign. The campaign started with this meeting and will be continued until the annual meeting, October 26th. The total membership this year is 828 for Oxford County, 545 are women and 283 are men. This exceeds the previous year's membership by 119 members. The goal this year for Oxford County Farm Bureau membership is 800 members by the time of the annual meeting.

With other business taken up at the Executive meeting of the Oxford County Farm Bureau, Extension projects for 1929 were presented by Donald H. Ridgway, County Agent. Some new and very interesting projects have been planned by the state specialists at Orono and will be presented for adoption at the annual meeting in October.

The schedule of committee meetings in each community to start the campaign drive will be published in a few days.

The ladies of the Roxbury Farm Bureau held a meeting on apron patterns, August 24th. Although there were only twelve ladies attended the meeting, fifty-four apron patterns were cut. These ladies will renew for 1929 for they certainly get their $2.00 worth from the Farm Bureau.

Statement by Supt. Smith

"At Smith wants us to go back to the conditions that existed in this country ten years ago with his scheme for letting each state set its percentage of alcohol permitted to be sold in intoxicating liquors. For us, it means that Maine will be dry and nearly state will be wet. We know what that cost us in the old days. The decrease in this state in arrests for drunkenness, and decrease in deaths from alcoholism and cirrhosis of the liver tell how beneficial for the State of Maine has been national prohibition, and we intend to continue our fight for it in order to save ourselves from other states."

Said the Rev. Frederick W. Smith, superintendent of the Christian Civic League of Maine in an address at the East Livestock Camp Ground last week.

Mr. Smith went on to say, "In his speech of acceptance, the Governor of New York says that we ought to follow the ways of our neighbors and adopt Government Control. Which one of our neighbors, Mr. Smith, we would ask, for every province that has adopted Government Control has adopted a different system. Shall we adopt the Quebec system where saloons parade under the guise of taverns and turn out just as evil results as the saloon? So rotten are the results that some of our Canadian neighbors are beginning to wonder just what it is that the Government controls. The stockholders say it controls cash for the Government stores and the payers get the cash and he gets the charge accounts. If government ownership of the railroads was as a model, what kind of a mess would we get from government ownership of the saloons?"

"Some folks are trying to fool us by saying the Prohibition could not do anything to weaken prohibition, but when the same folks try to tell us that they would strengthen enforcement. If the enforcement is weak, it is because the enforcement is weak. It was Captain Smith of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment who on the platform this week made the first statement of state all that they needed to get the enforcement of the prohibition, the repeal of the Amendment was one more liberal step upon the fence of the Supreme Court of the United States. They are saying they will get that Judge if Al Smith is the next president."

"At Smith has always been the friend of the saloon and the liquor interests. He will be. That is apparent from his own saying. Further, his own record confirms him. In his reply to the charges made by William Allen White he admitted that every one of them was true. He did not deny any but attempted to excuse himself for having made them by saying he was in a large company. The charges concerning prostitution and vice still stand. He cannot deny them."

REPUBLICAN RALLY

WELL ATTENDED

Congressmen White and Hooper Spoke to Interested Audience

A full house greeted Hon. Wallace H. White, Jr., of Lewiston and Congressman Hooper of Michigan at the Republican Rally held at Odeon Hall last Thursday evening. The Scotch Kilts Band furnished music before the speaking. Herman Mason presided and introduced the speakers.

Congressman White was the first speaker. After briefly referring to the political situation he gave a very interesting and instructive talk on the American merchant marine. He showed that from the beginning of history sea power has controlled the trade of the world. He spoke of the standing of this country on the seas in Washington's time and pictured the decline of marine activities by quoting figures on the number and cost of ships and the price we are paying sea-going craft of other countries to take care of our overseas trade. Mr. White is chairman of the Committee of Merchant Marine and he was well fitted to talk on the subject.

Mr. Hooper's speech was more along political lines. He spoke of the good work Mr. White has done in Congress and the standing he enjoys at Washington. He was a forceful speaker, bringing out the record of the Republican party since the Civil War and the achievements of the presidential candidate. He devoted some time to a friendly criticism of the opposing party's policies, and at all times held the interest of his hearers.

Farm Bureau to Honor

Outstanding Farmers

Final plans as adopted by the executive committee of the Maine Farm Bureau Federation for honoring outstanding Maine farmers and rural homemakers were announced today by Arthur L. Deering, Secretary of that organization. It was voted that the nominations for this year must be forwarded on or before December 31 and that the total number of men and women to be honored in any one year shall not exceed five.

According to the plan which will be available in printed form within a few days, any person may nominate for honorary recognition at any time, any farmer or rural homemaker. Such nominations are to be sent to the local county farm bureau and will at the proper time be considered by a committee of five to be selected by the executive committee of the farm bureau. The closing date each year when nominations for the county will be received for that year, will be determined and announced by the county committee.

One man and one woman may be recommended by each of the county committees to a state committee that is to be selected by the state farm bureau federation. This committee composed of five men and women is to study the qualifications of all the nominees and recommend to the College of Agriculture the names of not more than a total of five men and women who shall be honored at the next Farm and Home Week held at the University of Maine, December 31 has been set as the closing date for this year for receiving nominations from the counties.

The Federation has defined an outstanding farmer or homemaker as any person who (1) has made farming his chief life work or has devoted much or all of her life to the duties of a rural homemaker. (2) is recognized as a successful farmer or rural homemaker. (3) has contributed largely to the welfare of the community through leadership and to the agriculture or home life of the town, county, state or nation. There is considerable interest in the whole idea of giving public recognition to growers in rural work. After lengthy study on the part of a committee and very careful consideration at its last annual meeting in March, the Federation voted its approval of the idea and instructed the executive committee to develop necessary plans and set the machinery in motion.

Books on which nominations may be made are available at each of the 14 county farm bureau offices.

BETHEL WINS OVER

NEWRY AND LOVELL

Newry at Bethel, 19-4. Lovell at Lovell, 4-2

BETHEL 19-NEWRY 4

In a game that was mostly a batting practice for the locals Bethel administered a crushing defeat upon their neighboring townsmen.

The home team started scoring early, getting four runs in the first three of which were earned. The fourth was another big inning for Bethel with five more tallies being chalked up. The scoring continued with three in the fifth, one in the sixth and six in the seventh.

Goddard, pitching for Bethel, allowed two hits up to the beginning of the eighth. In this inning he merely tossed the ball over and Newry managed to get three hits, which bunched with as many errors noted them four runs, three of them an absolute gift.

The hitting of Goddard, Bartlett, Robertson, Eldredge, and Swan featured for Bethel. "Scotty" got two homers, White a three bagger, while Goddard, Bartlett, Swan and Eldredge connected for doubles.

Bob pitched a good game and might easily have shut out the visitors if he had not let up in the final innings.

BETHEL 4-LOVELL 2

Sunday, Bethel run its victory streak to three by defeating the Lovell All Stars on the latter's home ground.

Benson of West Paris did the mound work for the Bethelites and allowed only three hits and one of these was a case of bad judgment on the part of the right fielder.

The fourth inning marked the first scores for either side with Bethel getting two served up to them on a plateau. In the sixth however, the local fire eaters got a run that was earned. Eldredge got a hit with two away and Swan scored him with a mighty double to deep center.

In the eighth Howe, again with two out, hit safely and scored on successive hits by Eldredge and Swan.

An error by our shortstop allowed Lovell's first man up in the ninth to reach first. The next man fanned but Benson hit the third man up to put men on first and second. Another man struck out but the following batter was a hit to right field that looked like a certain put out to end the game. It was misjudged and went for a two bagger, scoring Lovell's only two runs.

A final strike out ended the game, and a very good one it was, as a good knowledge of Bethel's roster, who outwitted the game, will agree.

Benson pitched a great ball game, striking out fifteen and allowing only three hits. Lovell should never have scored, but they did.

The hitting of Eldredge and Swan composed the heavy artillery for Bethel and Bartlett and Howe also contributed a safe blow apiece.

Bourgeois a Town Dweller

The middle class, as a dominant rosal body, is a comparatively new thing, writes Gilbert Seldes in the Saturday Evening Post. From the days of Coriolanus to those of Louis XIV if you wanted to have any large group of people, you directed yourself to the wealthy rabble, the great unwashed.
The bourgeois of those times was, as the name indicates, a town dweller, a citizen, and what is more, he was usually a free citizen.

Leaders in the public agricultural, industrial and business

Old Bantu's Comment

Natives of the jungles of Africa are likely to be of a philosophical turn of mind, as is illustrated by the story of an old Bantu negro told by Dan Crawford, who spent most of his life as a missionary in the wilds of the Dark Continent. "I have lived so long in the long grass that I think like the blacks, and I never talk of Western civilization," Crawford told Seton Thompson, the naturalist and writer. "But just when I was coming home and was thinking perhaps tenderly of old scenes and faces, I did one night swank a bit about civilization to an old Bantu, who was sitting with me in my hut. I told him I was going to my own country, where they had ships that went under the water, ships that went on the water, and still more ships that flew over the water. I told him that in English houses you turn a tap and the water flows, touched a button and the room was flooded with light—in fact I gave him a good glowing description of all the alleged triumphs of civilization. When I had catalogued as much as I could remember I stopped and waited for the old negro to show his surprise. But he just said:

"Is that all, Mr. Crawford?"
 "Yes, I think it is," I replied.
 "Then very slowly and gravely the old Bantu said:
 "Well, Mr. Crawford, to be better off is not always to be better."—Detroit News.

Signatures of Great

Artists Not Genuine

The average old painting has a more colorful past than has been supposed. Judging by X-ray studies reported from the Roentgen experiment station at the Vienna Central Institute for Radiology, three-fourths of the pictures that have the reputation of being painted between the fifteenth and eighteenth centuries are not what their proud possessors think they are. It is estimated. Some of the "old masters" are really not so old, the X-ray reveals. Some are as old as they seem, but the name of a great artist has been forged over the signature of the real painter, a lesser light of the same period. A few paintings wear false color, at a disadvantage. These canvases were originally painted by men of the first rank, and later were stupidly covered by entirely new pictures, much less beautiful.

Among the Ancients

It has been pointed out that the statues and plaques carved in stone and wood to be seen in the Gizeh museum prove that the priest mummifiers of Memphis 3,000 years ago possessed a profound knowledge of anatomy. Science, therefore, as some one has remarked, is as old as art, and they have advanced together. Another remarkable fact in this connection is that excavations in Italy have brought to light scores of finely finished surgical instruments for certain operations, which are almost in every particular of form like those reinvented in modern times and used by the most advanced surgeons of today.

Towns With Odd Names

Many are the towns in Georgia with queer names. There is Agnes, Lula and Helen; there is a Stop, a Linger and a Cumslo; and Jimp, Poor Robin, Canoe, Cash, Kuzh, Dot, Ty Ty Joy, Nickajack, Shih Bone and Asbestos, and many more, but the prize for brevity belongs to a little settlement in Gilmer county, which was a long time ago named Al, says the Boston Globe. Whether it is a typographical error for Al or whether the residents ever heard of the common and convenient little cross-word puzzle definition for a three-toed sloth, the record does not say.

Beavers Cleanly Animals

Beavers are wonderful housekeepers, clean and orderly. Their beds which are on the floor a few inches above the water level, are usually strewn with bits of bark, grass or roots left from their food, and while they are always damp, they are clean and well drained. There is no unpleasant, murky odor to their beds. Fresh food is constantly being brought in and eaten and the refuse carried out. The bed of the newly-born beaver differs from that of the adult in that it is softer, being made of grass, leaves, twigs and rootlets that serve as food when it is old enough to eat.

Where?

A colored man was accustomed to come every Monday to do the family washing. One day the family heard the following conversation take place between mamma and her house man who was tugging at her skirt.
 "Ma," whined the youngster, "where does the fire go when it goes out?"
 "Fah, fah!" she replied. "I don't just ask well ask me where your father goes when he goes out."

"No Carbon in 13,000 miles" How SOCONY SPECIAL behaves in Lincoln Cars!

HAAS MOTOR CAR CORPORATION

LINCOLN
 MOTOR CARS

August 16th, 1928

Mr. Frank Platz
 Standard Oil Company of New York
 370 Seventh Avenue
 New York City

Dear Mr. Platz:

Big to advise that since we have been using your SOCONY SPECIAL GASOLINE, which is now over a period of six months in all of our cars and trucks, we find that not once during this period was it necessary to send any of our equipment to the repair shop to have the carbon cleaned and valves ground.

In addition we are getting better mileage per gallon as well as considerable more power, and it is impossible to make any of our equipment buck while operating on the road.

In November of 1927 my own Lincoln Car was in need of having the carbon cleaned and was about to put it in our Repair Shop to have the matter taken care of, but due to the fact that we were very busy on customers' cars I let the matter ride and tried some of your SOCONY SPECIAL GASOLINE, and I am pleased to say that the carbon disappeared in a few days and the car has now run over thirteen thousand miles since November, and there is no trace of carbon in the motor and the car is functioning perfectly.

Everyone here is enthusiastic about the SOCONY SPECIAL GASOLINE, and we are recommending it to both our Ford and Lincoln owners every day, and we wish to take this opportunity to congratulate you on the quality of your product.

Yours very truly,

HAAS MOTOR CAR CORPORATION
 J. H. Haas
 President

What Socony Special does in Lincoln cars it will do in yours.

Thousands of users tell us that Socony Special not only stops knocks but starts faster, picks up faster, climbs hills faster, and gives more mileage than other so-called anti-knock gasolines.

It contains no poisonous or foreign substance which might injure your motor.

Pinning a Medal on Him

Kirby in New York World, Feb. 20, 1920

These qualifications and achievements which make Herbert C. Hoover an eminently desirable as the next President of the U. S. have never been better described than by Charles D. Hughes at the Carnegie Hall meeting at which the Great Furman medal for distinguished public service was conferred upon Mr. Hoover.

"The Americanism of Hoover is shown in every deed, in every utterance. His achievements dignified the nation, and established precedents for the American name abroad which even the machinations of democracy cannot shake. He bears a name illustrious because of remarkable achievements; but, best of all, it is a name unblemished, expressive not only of exceptional ability but of the simple life of a modest citizen."

This is the opinion of a man who has been a distinguished Governor of New York, a distinguished Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court, and the Republican candidate for President of the United States. It is likewise the opinion of an increasingly great number of American citizens of all parties, men and women alike.

Where is there another candidate, Democratic or Republican, to match him?

Columbia did more than discover America. It can be who first observed the Caribbees of the compass needle on the first transatlantic voyage and thus laid the basis of modern, scientific navigation. So the figure who have sailed through the atmosphere between the old world and the New are laying the foundations of those practical meteorological and navigational sciences which must be applied to our dreams of regular transatlantic passenger flying are to come true.

GAY COLORS ABOUND ON FRENCH BEACHES

The French are a decorative and decoration-loving people and they let themselves go when they indulge this instinct at the seaside, according to Bettina Bedwell in Liberty.

At some of the beaches the men appear in blazers that make the awnings and parasols blush modestly, while the women wear everything from chiffon to birch-bark bathing suits, and their peignoirs resemble gorgeous tropical birds. "At Deauville," she writes, "anything goes, and it is here you find sensational and freakish bathing clothes—such as padded bathing suits and those made of feathers."

"The lido is consecrated to pajamas, and bathing suits don't matter very much; while Le Touquet, Dinard, La Baule and other resorts on the northwest coast are backgrounds for the more substantial and less sensational mode."

GETTING ONE'S NAME INTO THE PAPER

When I was fourteen or so I became acquainted with the editor of one local newspaper. The editor was a shrewd young fellow who was mainly concerned in increasing his circulation at a minimum cost and in developing an interest in advertising among the local merchants. I thought it might be helpful in the accomplishment of the first purpose to feature the celebrities and near celebrities in the rural neighborhood from which I came, by appointing me as his weekly correspondent from that community. I was to receive the newspaper free of charge for my services together with a supply of stamped envelopes and print paper upon which to write the romance and tragedy of the locality.

I was a novice to the art of journalism. I knew, of course, that births, marriages, deaths, cyclones, and other disasters of irregular occurrence should be recorded and I was familiar with the conventional phrases in which these stories should be told but it was a healthy and a quiet community and I knew that these outstanding events would be of comparatively rare occurrence.

"What shall I write about?" I inquired.

"Nothing happens very often where we live."

"What people want most," the editor replied, "is to see their names in the paper. Get in the names. Look around and see what the neighbors are doing, and if possible what they are doing well, and speak about it—but always name names correctly spelled and with the right initials. Nobody will forgive you if the name is wrong."

I learned, slowly I suppose. Houses were being painted and hogues trimmed, and grain harvested, and people coming across the township to spend Sunday with an old neighbor. There were always social functions—parties and singing school and spelling bees and occasionally some one would die or get married and give me a chance to spread myself journalistically. It was the names which counted. The editor was right.

TUBERCULIN TEST WORK COMPLETED IN OXFORD COUNTY

The tuberculin test work in Oxford County has now been completed and this county was added to the list of counties in the Modified Accredited Area on Sept. 1st. This makes a total of 13 counties now accredited. The three not yet accredited are Aroostook, York and Cumberland. The latter will be recommended for accreditation in the near future, and the work in Aroostook is progressing very rapidly. To date there have been 7,710 cattle tested in this county and six reactors found, with about 10,000 more to be tested.

Following is the result of the test work in Oxford County:

Total number tested, 18,400; herds, 2,820; reactors, 74; percentage 0.45%.

The reactor herds have been rotated and as a result of this 12 reactors were found. Ten of these were found in one herd that was badly diseased on first test and it was decided to take the remainder of the herd on retest to guard against future infection from the same.

The Fastest War

The aircraft carrier Lexington established what Washington announces as a new record by making a round trip of 10,000 miles at an average speed of 30.9 knots in a period of 24 hours, during which she traveled 742 nautical miles, passes its preceding day's record at a rate of 29.2 knots, a compliment demonstrates the potential effectiveness of the type of warship. Armed with the carrier's most modern weapons, the carrier would be a formidable enemy even though its speed is limited. But when, in addition, it is armed with a powerful armament, it becomes a threat which no enemy can ignore. The aircraft carrier, as such, was virtually unknown before the Battle of Jutland, and it was represented only by a few steamers. ### The Fastest Warship

The aircraft carrier Lexington has established what Washington announces as a new record by steaming at an average speed of 30.9 knots over a period of 24 hours, during which it traveled 742 nautical miles. This surpasses its preceding day's run of 700 miles at a rate of 29.2 knots. The accomplishment demonstrates anew the potential effectiveness of this newest type of warship. Armed with warfare's most modern weapons—the aerial fighter and the aerial bomber—the carrier would be a formidable enemy even though its speed were limited. But when, in addition to effective armament, it boasts a speed exceeding that of the cruiser, it constitutes a threat which no fleet can safely ignore. The aircraft carrier, as such, was virtually unknown before the Battle of Jutland, and there it was represented only by a converted steamer. In any naval warfare which the future may see, however, it will undoubtedly play an important part.

Formerly all the South's raw cotton which was not sold abroad went to New England factories. But today there is not a cotton-raising state without mills as well as plantations. These plants, numbering more than 600, represent a total capital investment exceeding $1,000,000,000. The annual value of their products is estimated at upward of $1,000,000,000.

No Jaguars Wanted

Bearing an automobile crash, William J. Slattery of Washington, D. C., opened his street door to see if he could be of any assistance. As he did, in popped what he thought was the house cat. Returning from the accident, his wife met him with the information, "That was a funny kind of a cat you let in." Slattery took a look and decided she was right. With the help of three men he finally got kitty into a crate and learned that it was a young jaguar, the pet of a sailor who had been giving it an airing in an automobile involved in the crash.

Submarine Possibilities

As far as we have been able to ascertain, the greatest depth attained by a submarine is 285 feet, although submarines have been known to reach a depth of 300 feet unintentionally. We are informed by the Navy department that the length of time which a submarine can remain submerged depends upon the equipment which it carries for the purification of the air. Normally, submarines are so equipped that they may remain submerged for 20 hours and operate efficiently.—Washington

We believe in the eternal fitness of things, hence we prefer to have the landscape left free of "hot dog" stands. At the same time, lest we be misunderstood, we go on record as being strong for the "dogs," at the proper time and place.

Landing of the Pilgrims at Plymouth Rock. Find the "Mayflower" in which they crossed the Atlantic ocean.

Make a wrong step, and down you go. Consider well before you promise.

A chieftain of the tribes of Somalia in Africa seeks to lift the ancient ban upon trousers and pajamas. Until now his people have sternly refused to wear the so-called habiliments of civilization. But this sheik has seen a motion picture and heard the radio. He has learned what the smart set wear on Easter and his soul longs for a tailored expression. His people are not yet disposed to accept the new dispensation but they are coming to it. After the chief has put on his Palm Beach suit and learned to roll a cigarette he will have the women of his tribe eating out of his hand.

A new thing in oriental development is realization by Japan that milk, which is produced in negligible quantity at home, is an important article of food for people who would be great. New markets loom for an American product as the world more and more adopts American ways.

Perhaps it is simply human nature that a man isn't half so angry when his radio suddenly fails to function during a political convention as he is when it is stricken dumb at the critical moment in a prize fight.

Carrier pigeons made an average speed of 70 miles an hour from Lyons, N. Y., to Boston. And to think that carrier pigeons were once used because they were swift!

Plants Greatest Miners

Two University of Michigan experts, Prof. John E. Weaver and Dr. William E. Bruner, have discovered that plants are the greatest miners. The roots of a four-year-old rhubarb plant were found to occupy a cylinder of soil eight feet in diameter and eight feet deep, while those of a ten-year-old horseradish plant had mined to a depth of more than fourteen feet.

Old tires are demounted, rims and wheels cleaned, new tires properly inflated, wheel alignment checked and new tires mounted. Regular inspection is also given. See our line of Miller Tires. You owe it to yourself to at least stop in and "look over" these fine tires.

If you buy your tires from a mail order house do you call the mailman to fix a flat or to put air in your tires? Of course you don't because the mailman is not responsible for what you buy away from home. Neither do you get any satisfaction from the mail order house.

Buying from a mail order house you naturally think that you are saving a lot of money, but in the long run are you? Do you get a tire that is made by a concern with a reputation to uphold or do you get a tire that is made especially for this kind of trade?

Buying tires from your home town tire dealer is in itself a guarantee that the tire you buy will give you perfect satisfaction. Your home town merchant has a reputation for square dealing and he is not going to sell you a tire that is not perfect in every way.

Remember, the mail man does not fix flats, but your local tire dealer does.

Why should I buy a Goodyear Tire?

Come into our store, and ask this question, man to man: "Why should I buy your tire?" You won't need to ask another.

All we want, whether you buy or not, is an opportunity to explain why the Goodyear is called The World's Greatest Tire.

Here's Why

- 1 Its sturdy carcass is made of Superwrist, which means fewer fabric failures and less tire changes on the road.
- 2 Its new design of tread gives the best traction and car control ever afforded by an automobile tire.
- 3 Its tenacious ability to grip the road gives the greatest possible degree of safety.
- 4 Increased area of road contact and added All-Weather blocks insure slow, even tread wear and greater satisfaction to the user.
- 5 Quietness and smooth running are also made certain by the new design of tread.
- 6 This new Goodyear is admittedly the World's Most Beautiful Tire.

The best proof of all this is the tire itself. Come in today and see this masterpiece, the Goodyear All-Weather Balloon.

L. A. Edwards, Pastor

10:45 Morning Worship, with sermon by the pastor. His subject will be "Cheer Leaders."

If we were to heed the word of some people, we would board up the windows of the church, and hang crepe on the door, and thus proclaim to the world that the church was dead.

There was something lacking in that little company of Disciples who, after the crucifixion of Jesus returned to their fishing boats, like men who had had a rude awakening from a pleasant dream.

That we need more men and women in the church who pray, and more who give, and more who work, goes without saying, but one of the great needs nevertheless is for men and women who will cry out in the streets: "Be of Good Cheer."

The new Buick
is the new Style

More than handsome... more than luxurious... a wonderful new type of motor car beauty... a thrilling turning point in body design

It will be imitated, of course! But the new, the fine and the beautiful always inspire emulation. But so great is the cost of building the magnificent new Buick bodies for the Silver Anniversary Buick that imitation will be possible only to much smaller cars, and even these will find difficulty in following where Buick leads!

$1,500,000 has been expended in manufacturing the dies alone for the new Buick bodies; and the gracefully curving side panels which form one of their distinguishing characteristics represent the most expensive steel paneling work employed on any automobile in the world!

But it is not in the matchless grace and beauty of exterior design alone that the Silver Anniversary Buick eclipses other cars. In fleet, powerful performance too, the world holds no equal for the Silver Anniversary Buick with Masterpiece Bodies by Fisher. And the motor-public, buying in such tremendous volume as to force the great Buick factories to work day and night to supply the demand, is clanking it to the prominence of a vogue!
